Make Your Own Light and Power

Here is the complete Kohler Automatic Power and Light outfit. Note the simplicity of its construction, its clean-cut appearance, its sturdy build—note, above all, the entire absence of the usual bank of large glass battery cells. There are but three simple units in the Kohler system: its efficient four-cylinder, water-cooled motor; its dependable generator connected directly to the motor, and a small automobile-type battery for starting the motor.

IN THE LIHUE DISTRICT COURT

Many and varied were the cases in the Lihue District Court since the beginning of the month.

Oke, assault and battery and violations of auto regulations figured prominently; even a weighty member of the famous Sons of Rest of Kealia made his appearance but reluctantly contributed his mite to the county coffers, and thereby exploded the theory, that "they" were exempt from arrest.

Sagard, a Hawaiian Filipino was the first man on the carpet charged with assault and battery. Sagard left the court a sadder but wiser man and minus 25 good iron men.

Theodor Nidaros of the Nawiliwili breakwater force, thought he could beat the sun and reach home before it got dark. Alas Theodor lost out, the coast got him on the Niumalu hill and Theodor is out eleven good dollars.

N. E. Weight of Kealia defied the Lihue police force by driving past the Tip Top after 8 p. m. without a tail light. That cost Ernest the goodly sum of ten plus one, painstakingly and in the best Spencerian style made out in the form of a check. The court admonished Mr. Weight to have his wires overhauled.

Amando Perreira of dairy fame appeared in court charged larceny of some chickens alleged to belong to his successor. The court patiently waited an hour to allow complaining witness to appear, failing which, the case was dropped for lack of prosecution and Amando departed smiling for his new place of abode, Koloa.

Oke brought two Chinese in trouble. Lee Tai was caught at Puhel peddling the stuff; he willingly surrendered his stock in trade to be stored in the sheriff's dark room. (By way there is an awful smell in that room) besides had to plunk up one hundred and fifty iron men as bail money and was allowed to depart. Lee Tai failed to show up so the court is the willing beneficiary of the munificent Lee Tai.

Oke again made trouble for another Kealia son, one Ah Wing who and the stuff on his premises. Another $150 plus 10 gallons No. 1 Oke was the willing forfeit.

One Kim Cho Yil, a Korean from Kilauea, is held for investigation but as his case is on a larger scale, it is likely it will be transferred to Honolulu for trial, the sheriff having been in wireless communication with the U. S. district attorney in Honolulu.

However, the man is held, failing to get up bond of $500 and awaiting orders from Honolulu.

Yarnichu proceedings in four cases brought verdict for plaintiff in all cases.

OFFICER NABS BOLD BOOZE PEDDLER

A flourishing business in the manufacture and distribution of okolehau was broken up last Thursday when Police Officer Joe Huddy of Kilauea arrested one Korean named Kim while in the act of selling the forbidden article.

Apparently Volstead meant nothing in Kim's young life as he drove into Kilauea with sixteen gallons of oke in his flivver about four o'clock in the afternoon. He stopped almost in front of the plantation office and without any pretense of secrecy took a couple of bottles out of the back of the car and started to deliver them to one of his customers in the camp. Joe Huddy spotted him but could not believe that any one could be so bold as to violate the law so openly. He hardly thought it possible that an oke peddler would come into camp in the day time to deliver his stuff but on investigation he found that it was the real article.

He promptly placed him under arrest and it was rumored that Kim was quite surprised that he should be disturbed in the pursuit of his business. It is also rumored that he offered Joe several months' salary to let him go.

Kim was turned over to Deputy Sheriff Werner at Hanalei and Sheriff Werner brought him to Lihue and placed him in the county jail that evening. Federal officers are expected from Honolulu on Tuesday morning and will probably return with him to Honolulu to be brought before a federal court.

His car will most likely be confiscated and will be put up at auction at an early date. This arrest will no doubt cause an advance in prices and at the same time discourage daylight deliveries. This will be a sad week-end for somebody in Kilauea as the oke merchants will be way behind in their deliveries due to the watchfulness of the police.
